

McCoy tops ticket, O'Connell topples Lepore

Vigorous race leads to new faces on town boards

By JAYNE W. MILLER

WILMINGTON - Saturday's damp weather did not prevent more than 3,000 voters from casting their ballots in the 2011 annual town election. Former School Committee member, Judy O'Connell, earned a seat on the Board of Selectmen. Voters ousted Ray Lepore, a three time Selectman, in favor of O'Connell and 21-year incumbent Michael McCoy. McCoy topped the ticket by 25 votes over O'Connell.

Newcomer Ginny Bonish topped the ticket for School Committee with incumbent Leslee Quick bringing up a close second for the two seats on the board, defeating three other candidates. Gregory Bendel waged a write-in campaign for Housing Authority and won handily with 300 votes. Patrick Keogan was elected to the Redevelopment Authority, a board with only one other member and which has not met in years. Keogan remains the only winner not sworn in to date, all others were sworn in at Town Hall by Town Clerk Sharon George Saturday night following her reading the results.

A thick candidate pool marked the race for Selectmen and School Committee seats, with the high school feasibility study emerging as the biggest hot button issue in both races.

McCoy lamented several times during the campaign that three sitting members of the Board of

Saturday's Town Meeting will decide meals tax, curfew questions

By JAYNE W. MILLER

WILMINGTON - With the town election complete, voters still have some work to do this Saturday with the annual Town Meeting. With several articles that could directly impact residents' wallets, such as a meals tax; as well as significant purchases and changes to town bylaws, it is important that citizens attend. Twenty-five articles fill the warrant for town meeting, which will begin at 10:30 a.m. - or as soon after as a quorum of at least 150 registered voters sign in - Saturday, April 30, at the Wilmington High School gymnasium.

Among the two most high profile articles include one proposing a curfew in public parks, playgrounds, and fields while the second would institute a local meals tax on restaurant meals served in town, raising revenues for the town.

Article 22 seeks enforcement authority to prevent vandalism in public lands by proposing to make it unlawful for any person to be in a public park, playground or field, "whether on foot, bicycle, or vehicle or conveyance of any kind, between the hours of

A multi-part series: Addressing the issues surrounding a new high school

Choosing the site for WHS

By JAYNE W. MILLER

WILMINGTON - During the election and through a recent public forum, residents raised concerns about the decision by the High School Building Committee to focus on the current high school site for a new or remodeled high school. Some contend that the town is missing out on an opportunity to join the Model School program and potentially earn more reimbursement points. Others feel the current site is contaminated after an oil leak in 1984 and not clean enough to build upon. The Crier spoke to Town Manager Michael Cairra this week to address these concerns. The next public forum for the high school feasibility study will be May 12 in the high school auditorium.

Selectman candidate Mark Nelson advocated vociferously throughout his campaign that the town should purchase the Sciarappa Farm lands in north Wilmington and then participate in the Model School program through the Massachusetts School Building Authority (MSBA), which takes an approved design and adapts it to the land and educational model of the town. The process saves money in the design work and shaves nearly a year off the building process.

However, the site is not available to the town to purchase, despite repeated requests over the years for asking prices.

"If the Sciarappa farm is ever made available to the town for purchase, we would certainly consider it because we've had interest in the property long before discussion of a high school," said Cairra. The last time it was on the market, the asking price was $7.5 million."

Cairra has recently asked property owners for their current asking price, but has not been forwarded a response.

Further, the High School Building Committee eliminated the farm site as a potential location for the high school in mid-March. Being located at the northern-most edge of town is not as advantageous for transportation as being near the center of town. The farm site has limited access via a narrow road and abuts a busy highway. Further, the land is largely unimproved requiring the additional costs of bringing adequate utilities onto the site.

"The members of the HSBC decided there needs to be a

Relay For Life inspires artistic first grader

WILMINGTON - Raelyn Laquidara was just 5-years old when she participated in her first American Cancer Society Relay For Life. She helped set up luminaria bags at the site. She walked a couple of miles around the track during the event, too. But what stands out the most in her experience is that she told her mother next year she wanted to do her own fund raising.

So now Lori Laquidara, Raelyn's mother, proudly explains her daughter's plan for the June 17 Relay For Life in Wilmington. As she and her team, Bosom Buddies, started working on their fund raising, the now 6-year old said again she wanted to help.

"What's your idea?" her mother asked. So, Raelyn thought about it and came back to say, "Can I sell my pictures to help you raise money for Relay of one hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise" without a permit from the Department of Recreation.

People found in violation of the law by police would be subject to arrest and a $50 fine for the first offense and a $200 fine for each subsequent offense.

The proposal includes a strong element of parental responsibility requiring that parents be informed of infractions of the bylaw by juveniles under the age of 17. Repeat offenders will make mandatory visits to the Police Department and parents will pay dearly for subsequent violations.

First time warnings go on record. Second and subsequent violations by juveniles would result in a mandatory visit to the Police Department, and the parent or legal guardians will have to retrieve the child. Parents will also have to pay $50 for the second violation by their child, and $200 for each subsequent violation in a year.

Article 19 proposes the adoption of a local meals tax. According to a memo from Town Manager Michael Cairra, the town could generate an estimated $300,000 for a .75 percent tax on meals sold within the town. According to the Department of Revenue, 124 communities have signed onto the local meals tax, which goes on top of the current meals excise of .0625. $37.5 million have been raised altogether since inception of the law in 2009. On a $10 restaurant bill, the tax would be seven cents. On a $100 bill, the local tax would amount to 75 cents.

Articles 23 and 24 seek regulate junk dealers and pawnbrokers respectively. Passage of these bylaws would require licensure, the keeping of written records of each transaction, photo identification for transactions, and allow police inspections of property, inventories, books, and the like without warrant. Under state law, junk dealers and pawnbrokers fall under separate sections and in order to maintain a congruency, these bylaws are delineated independently, though the language is nearly identical.

Article 6 seeks the purchase or replacement of capital equipment for many town departments. Included are five replacement police cruisers for $150,000, new rapid response vehicle for the Fire Department for $220,000, two cargo vans for the Public Buildings Department for $42,000, one replacement ¾ ton pickup truck, for $33,600, one replacement skid steer loader for $46,350, and one replacement heavy duty catch basin cleaner truck for $160,000 for the Department of Public Works, a replacement wheelchair accessible transport van for $60,525 for the Department of Elderly Services, and one replacement wheelchair accessible mini-van for $47,000 for the School department.

Articles 26 and 27 seek a Charter amendment to Section 7 that would eliminate the requirement that the town manager reside in Wilmington during the term of his office. With Town Manager Michael Cairra retiring next year, passage of this article (26) would allow the town to expand the search for a new manager. Article 27 is the original proposed by George Lingenfelter. Selectmen took up the matter and proposed an independent version of the article separately to ensure any charter change would withstand scrutiny.

Article 28, also a citizen petitioned piece, would prevent elected officers from serving more than two consecutive terms in their offices.

Article 29 proposes language around fencing regulations, limiting the design, direction, materials, and color of fences in town.

Article 7 aims to repair sections of roof at the Wildwood Early Childhood Center, the Public Buildings Department, and the Public Works Department for a total of $336,000.

Article 8 seeks to continue the town's program to upgrade alarm systems in the Schools, this year requesting $310,000 for the North Intermediate School and the Woburn Street School.

Article 10 seeks to replace windows and doors at the Wilmington Memorial Library for $75,000.

better presence in the center of town for the high school, and for that and a variety of reasons the Sciarappa farm is not a viable site for the high school," finished Cairra.

Donald Walter of Jocelyn Lesser Associates explained during the April 12 public forum that the site planning criteria employed to help select the final location includes cost-efficient and schedule-efficient design, minimize phasing and disruption of students, maximizing the site layout, maintaining a strong public presence on the street and within the town, as well as minimizing impact on abutters.

Further, a town must be invited into the Model School program by MSBA. MSBA invites communities that have enough land immediately at their disposal, meaning it must be municipally owned property. For Cairra, even trying to procure an appropriate site that would have made the town eligible for the model school program and improving the site would negate any potential savings that might be gained through the program.

"MSBA did not extend that invitation and we did not have that municipally-owned property. If we had that, it would have been a consideration, because we would likely have gotten seven percent more reimbursement," said Cairra, adding a caveat. "But we would also have significant site costs and utility costs to bring the site up to what it needs to be. In the overall picture there would not be any savings."

During the last public forum, several residents raised concerns about the cleanliness of the current high school following an oil leak in two underground oil tanks at the school in 1984.

At the time, the town removed the tanks and removed contaminated soil and groundwater. A malfunctioning pump triggered a subsequent, smaller release in 1986. In 1988, accessible areas of the contamination were remediated. Some contaminated soil remained beneath the building where it was inaccessible, explained Cairra.

The town has a consultant on the committee who is an expert in the field and will be working with MSBA on the topic.

"We are aware of what is there and it is manageable," reassures Cairra. "There is nothing that says we cannot build on that site as long as we properly remediate it based on guidelines from DEP [Department of Environmental Protection]. The extent of the remediation and the type depends on how the high school is laid out on the site."

An Activities and Use Limitation (AUL) was attached to the deed in 2002 and "provides that a condition of No Significant Risk to health, safety, public welfare or the environment exists subject to certain restrictions on use."

"Educational use of the property is explicitly allowed. The AUL does not need to be removed," said Cairra. "However, if a major renovation or new school project proceeds, the project will comply with the restrictions of the AUL regarding construction activities or remove remaining contaminated soil that becomes accessible due to changes on the site."

WHAT TO KEEP, WHAT TO TOSS

Now that tax season is over, what do you need to save? Quite a bit, according to the Internal Revenue Service. Maybe not quite so much, if you use a computer.

Keep at least several years' worth of tax returns and the documentation behind them. If you are audited, you need to prove income, deductions or credits that you claimed on the last three annual tax returns. In cases of grossly underreported income, or suspected fraud, they can go way back.

Save records of any sales of stocks, bonds, mutual funds or other assets that show purchase and sale price. Also vital: records of nondeductible contributions to IRAs, deductible contributions to traditional and Roth IRAs and withdrawals from retirement funds.

But check to see what the financial companies retain on line. You may be able to retrieve documents, even scanning in old paper, and store them on your computer or a portable hard drive.

You can depend on the good advice you get from the tax-and-finance people at

Participate in Town Meeting

Dear Editor,
I would like to take a moment to not only to congratulate the winners of our Town Election, but also to say thank you to ALL the candidates who ran. Running for public office is not an easy thing to do. Putting yourself and family in the public spotlight is stressful and truly an arduous undertaking. Be proud of what you did and be proud that you took a chance to stand up and fight for our Town.

All the candidates did such a great job that they brought out more than 3,000 voters to the polls, just about 19.5% of all the registered voters in Town. That is truly an accomplishment! When I ran for school committee back in 2009 just under 4% of the voters came out to vote. It seems like a sleeping giant in Wilmington has finally been awakened and I look forward to future elections in Town and seeing more and more people participating in the political process.

On that note, this Saturday April 30th, the Town of Wilmington will be having its annual Town Meeting starting at 10:30 a.m. at the Wilmington High School gymnasium. Open Town Meeting is the purest form of democracy. It gives you the voter the opportunity to directly challenge your political leaders and voice your opinion on the important issues facing our Town today. So many towns these days are doing away with open town meetings due to the lack of participation. Don't let this happen to Wilmington, put aside the yard work for one day and come out and let your voices be heard.

Mario Marchese

Seeking support

Dear Editor,
As point petitioner for three Articles on the Warrant of the upcoming Town meeting, I respectfully request any and all support from residents for Article 28, which seeks to limit elected officials to serve no more than two consecutive terms in office. In the town of Concord, selectmen do not serve more than two terms by tradition. Article 34 is asking that the town's "Official Map," adopted in 1973, be updated; the map is missing over 250 town streets and ways. Article 36 seeks to establish a property tax work-off program for disabled Veterans, similar to the town's Senior Citizen tax work-off program. In this year's Town Budget, $10,000 is allocated for the Annual Report, why not apply those funds to a far better cause?

Regards,
Mark Nelson

Bonish thanks voters

To The Editor:
I would like to take this opportunity to publicly thank the people of Wilmington for electing me to a seat on the Wilmington School Committee. More than 3,000 of you cast a ballot on a rainy, windy April day, which happened to fall on the day before Easter. It says a lot about our town that so many of you took time out of your busy schedules to vote. I would like to also recognize my worthy opponents - Leslee, Manny, Michael, & Karl - I think each of us has at least one thing in common and that is the fact that we all want to help shape policy and make decisions to improve the quality of education that the children of Wilmington deserve. We may have differed on some issues, but the bottom line is that each of us had the kids in mind when we decided to run. Leslee, I look forward to working with you for the next three years.

My victory would not have been possible without the help of some wonderful family & friends who stepped up and offered to help me with my campaign. Whether you made a donation, held signs (some for 12 hours on Saturday!), sent 'Dear Friend' cards out, made calls, sent emails, secured lawn sign locations, provided some home cooking on Saturday or simply offered words of encouragement along the way, I thank all of you from the bottom of my heart. Some of you did many of the above things and it is truly humbling to know that I have so many wonderful people in my life who took the time and effort to help.

Sincerely,
Ginny Bonish

Thank-you to the McCoys

Dear Editor,
Lots of Love Cat Rescue would like to take this opportunity to thank Selectman Michael McCoy and his wife Danielle for their unwavering support of our rescue. We would also like to thank Michael McCoy for his generous donation of his yearly salary as a selectman to our rescue. This money will be used towards the vetting of an abandoned / stray cat or kitten.

We would also like to thank Michael and his wife Danielle for opening up their hearts and their home to some of our abandoned / stray cats and kittens. Danielle is our best foster mom for handling and feeding the tiny kittens that we take into our rescue. Danielle has taken in kittens as young as one-day-old who have lost their own mother. Danielle and her family have nurtured, fed, and cared for these little ones until they were old enough to be adopted. Due to Danielle and her family's loving care they have become some of the sweetest kittens and are placed in their new homes rapidly. We could not continue this rescue without caring people like the McCoys.

Sincerely,
Lots of Love Cat Rescue

O'Connell thanks voters

Dear Editor,
I would like to take this opportunity to personally thank all of the residents of Wilmington for coming out to vote this past Saturday on Election Day. I am grateful and honored to have been elected to the Wilmington Board of Selectmen. I promise to work hard on your behalf and to be a Selectman you can always be proud of.

Finally, I would like to thank my family, friends and local supporters for their encouragement and enthusiasm throughout my candidacy. With the support of wonderful people like them, anything in life is possible! Once again, thank you.

Sincerely,
Judy O'Connell

McCoy thanks voters

Dear Editor,
I would like to take this opportunity to thank the 1,739 people who re-elected me back to the Wilmington Board of Selectmen. Not only did we win the election, we topped the ticket garnering the most votes of any contested position on the ballot. Given that it was a dreary, rainy day, voter turnout was better than it has been in several years and I give people thanks for coming out to cast their vote. I would also like to take this opportunity to say to those who didn't vote for me, I am your selectman too and I'm just a phone call away. This election meant so much to me because I had no political machine behind me. The only endorsement I asked for on election day was yours, the voters of the town of Wilmington. Your voice was heard and I'm back. I will continue to be the independent voice and thinker that I have always been. Once again, it's a 4-1 board-nothing new to me, but I will work with anyone as long as they have the best interest of the town. Carry on.

Nelson thanks supporters

Dear Editor,
I would like to thank all of the supporters who voted and helped with this year's election, it is truly appreciated. Most encouraging was to see over 3,000 voters hit the polls versus the 600 voters in this same race just three years ago. Although we did not win, the campaign was a huge success and now there is time to focus on the contamination at 159 Church St, the headwaters of Maplemeadow, and funding for the Cancer Study.

Mark Nelson

Easter Egg Hunt success

Dear Editor:
On Saturday, April 23, the Recreation Department sponsored the 40th Annual Easter Egg Hunt. Unfortunately, April showers forced the event to move from the Town Common into the High School Cafeteria this year. When the starting signal was given, children rushed to gather the filled eggs and candy blanketing the room.

We estimate attendance at 900, which included approximately 450 children. The success of an event of this size requires the support of many residents and organizations within town. Special thanks to CVS, Dunkin Donuts at 195 Main Street, Dunkin Donuts at 321 Main Street, the Everett Lodge of the International Order of Odd Fellows, Lucci's Supermarket, Market Basket, RE/MAX

Encore, Sons of Italy, and the Wilmington Community Fund. The Wilmington Police Department provided an auxiliary police officer to assure the safety of all.

We would also like to thank the dedicated volunteers who filled eggs with candy before the event, and those volunteers that came to the High School Cafeteria to scatter the filled eggs for eager young children to collect. We extend heartfelt thanks to the Easter Bunny who came all the way to Wilmington to welcome children and pose for photos.

Thank you to everyone who helped to make this event a memorable one.

Sincerely yours,
Deborah Cipriani

Bendel offers thanks

Dear Editor,
I would like to thank all the residents of Wilmington who voted this past Saturday. I am humbled and extremely grateful for all of the people who took the time to write in my name for the Wilmington Housing Authority. I especially want to thank the residents who served as poll workers, Sharon George, and the entire staff from the Town Clerk's office, who did a tremendous job running another successful election. I look forward to the opportunity to work with the other members of the Housing Authority and serving our community.

Sincerely,
Greg Bendel

Let's Hear it!!

Your Two Cents...

I was appalled by the rude and aggressive behavior of Elizabeth Sabounjian, Chairman of the Wilmington Board of Health (BOH), toward Gerry O'Reilly at the April 19, 2011 meeting in association with the update on the Wilmington Children's Cancer Study presented by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health. In my opinion, it was unacceptable for the Chairman to threaten forceful ejection of a soft spoken concerned senior citizen. I believe that the Chairman not only owes Mr. O'Reilly a written apology, but that she should be removed from the BOH!

Wilmington

I would like to give a hundred thumbs up to Bernard's Jewelers for their ad in the April 20th edition of the Town Crier.

It was wonderful and inspiring.

Wilmington

To all the Wilmington candidates, winners and losers: Now that the elections are over, could you please quickly remove all those gawd awful political signs from around town? Other citizens will need room to place their gawd awful "Yard Sale" signs in their places! Speaking of which, if you Yard Sale folks must put up those ugly signs, could you please remove them at the end of the day? It sure is aggravating to see them still up, three weeks after the yard sale date.

A celebration of song: Jazz concert with Too Human

A Tewksbury Public Library event

TEWKSBURY - On Wednesday, May 4 at 6:30 p.m., Too Human will be performing jazzy "bluesy" originals and jazz standards from the Great American Songbook.

Whether performing breezy, jazzy, toe tapping swing; a bluesy, heartfelt ballad; or a familiar standard, Too Human will move you with their music. With vocals, guitar, percussion and upright bass, they have a jazzy / bluesy feel with a lot of heart. Their original songs will touch you in so many ways.

And the standards take on a life of their own with a fresh interpretation.

Ellen's earthy voice combines perfectly with Roger's unusual percussion style and sweet vocals. High quality musicianship with humor and passion, totally in sync with each other, they create a strong and intimate atmosphere. And their onstage chemistry is powerful.

Their songs have been recorded by a broad spectrum of recording artists including Cher, Pat Benatar, Teddy Pendergrass, Anne Murray and Nancy Wilson. As performers, Too Human has opened for or shared the stage with 10,000 Maniacs, Janis Ian, Martin Sexton, Livingston Taylor, Kenny Rankin, Kim & Reggie Harris, Susan Werner, Jack Williams, Les Sampou, David Amram, Dave's True Story, Dean Friedman, and Sloan Wainwright.

Doors open at 6:15 p.m. The concert begins at 6:30 p.m. Registration is strongly recommended. Registration is limited. Register by stopping by the Reference Desk, calling 978-640-4490 ext. 207, or visiting the library's online calendar of events (www.tewksburypl.org). Light refreshments will be provided. A door prize will be awarded. The Friends of the Tewksbury Public Library's Friendly Little Bookshop will be open prior to the event. This program is sponsored, in part, by a grant from the Tewksbury Cultural Council, a local agency which is supported by the Massachusetts Cultural Council, a state agency.

"Health and Wellness Fair for the Whole Family" next Wednesday, May 4

The Tewksbury Health Department and Council on Aging will hold a "Health and Wellness Fair for the Whole Family" next Wednesday, May 4, from 3:00 to 7:00 PM at the Tewksbury Senior Center, 175 Chandler Street. There will be items of interest for the young and the not so young. Admission is Free. There will be many health agencies present as well as the Police and Fire Department and the Lions Eyemobile where one may have his/her eyes checked.

There will also be fun games and face painting for the children, give-a-ways, and demonstrations on exercise, healthy eating and cooking, entertainment, messages and refreshments. Again, the Health Fair will take place next Wednesday, May 4th from 3-7 PM. You won't want to miss it and do bring along the whole family.

Next Friday, May 6th, Older Americans Day, the COA will hold its Annual "Showcase of Creativity" Art Show at the Senior Center from 5:00 to 8:00 PM - another opportunity to see the wonderful art pieces created by our senior Artisans. There will be various mediums displayed: paintings, wood carvings, embroidery, quilting, crafts, work in progress, demonstrations by our instructors and of course music and refreshments. The public is welcome.

A two part Activities Meeting has been scheduled this Friday afternoon, April 29th. The first part of the meeting is scheduled for 1:30. Art show volunteers should attend at this time. The second portion of the meeting will cover the Senior Citizen Memorial Day Parade floats and will begin at 2:00 PM.

Those people volunteering for the Health Fair will be contacted as to when a meeting will be held to go over fair duties.

Dr. Smith will conduct a Podiatry Clinic for Tewksbury Senior Citizens this Saturday, April 30th.

This clinic is now full. Participants are asked to check his/her ticket for appointment times.

This same day, Saturday, April 30th, is also the day that the Tewksbury Police Department and Board of Health in conjunction with the Drug Enforcement Agency will conduct a 2011 National Take Back Initiative where one may bring unwanted and expired prescription and over the counter drugs to the Police Station to be safely disposed of by the DEA. In the past many people disposed of such items by flushing them down the toilet. This is no longer a safe practice because doing so effects our environment and ground waters. This national "Take Back Day" enables people to bring their old medications to the Police Station (918 Main Street) on April 30th from 10:00 AM to 2:00 PM. It is suggested that any identifying personal and drug information be removed or that all pills be placed in securely fastened plastic baggies. Liquids and ointments are not being accepted at this drop-off. For more information one may call Officer Welch at 978-851-7373 extension 230.

The Upscale Consignment Boutique will hold its "INTAKE OF ITEMS" day next Monday, May 2nd from 3:00 to 7:00 PM. Spring and summer items are being accepted.

Several other happenings which one may want to mark in his/her calendar are:

The Friends monthly dance on May 13 at 7:00 PM featuring the Fred Manzi Band.

A Senior Center Breakfast Benefit on Sunday, May 15th from 7:30 to 11:00 AM. Proceeds from this event will benefit both the Tewksbury Patriotic Committee and Senior Center Memorial Day Parade activities. Plan to come on down for a hearty breakfast and at the same time support the Town Memorial Day event.

The DJ Jon Mansfield afternoon dance on Monday, May 16th. Those wishing to have lunch before the dance begins are reminded to place a lunch reservation by May 11th.

A Silver Tones Dance on Friday, May 20th from 7:00 to 10:30 PM.

A couple of new day trips will be noted next week.

A pleasant spring week is wished to all. God Bless America.

A Community in Support of Wilmington Police Officer Shawn Lee

Bone Marrow Registry Drive and Blood Drive

WILMINGTON - The Wilmington Police Department will be joining with the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute and the American Red Cross to host a Bone Marrow Registration Drive and Blood Drive on Saturday, May 21, 2011.

The Blood and Bone Marrow Registration Drives are being held in support of Wilmington Police Officer Shawn Lee, who is currently being treated for Acute Myeloid Leukemia. The Registration/Drive will be held from 8:00 a.m. - 1:00 p.m. at the Wilmington High School Cafeteria, 159 Church Street, Wilmington.

More than 35,000 people in the United States are diagnosed each year with leukemias, anemias, myelodysplastic disorders and other life-threatening diseases requiring treatment with a blood stem cell or bone marrow transplant. Nearly 70 percent of these patients must rely on an unrelated donor. Finding a compatible donor is a challenge. The opportunity to register and/or donate blood will help many patients in need.

Officer Lee is a 38-year old husband and father of two children. He is a resident of the Town of Wilmington. Officer Lee has been an Officer with the Wilmington Police Department for the past nine years and serves as a member of the department's Honor Guard. Shawn is a proud Veteran of the United States Air Force, having served in the Gulf War.

Mary Ellen Lee, Officer Lee's mom, states, "Family is most important and Shawn hopes this Registry Drive and Blood Drive will help other patients and their families." Officer Lee and his family are overwhelmed by the expression of support and care offered by his extended family, friends, fellow officers and the residents of the Town of Wilmington. This is his way to make a difference!

Selectmen supported Judy O'Connell, but it did not hurt his numbers. He won 1,739 votes, or just under 33 percent. O'Connell came in just behind him with 1,714, a 25 vote difference. Ray Lepore, a nine-year veteran of the board, won 1,345, or just over 25 percent of the vote. Mark Nelson trailed with 478 votes, or 9 percent. Only 12 spots were left blank, indicating that the vast majority exercised their right to vote for two people on that board. There were six write-in votes according to unofficial results from the Town Clerk's office.

"I want to thank all the people who came out to vote for me, and for those who didn't vote for me, I want to be their selectman too," began McCoy in a conversation with the Crier. "I would also like to say that I look forward to working with Judy O'Connell. Unfortunately Ray did not get reelected. He is a man with a lot of class. He will be missed by the residents and he'll be missed by me. I thought Ray was a good selectman."

McCoy added that he did not take any votes for granted and ran his election like he was the underdog, despite his 21 years of experience, adding that he went to 28 different locations in town greeting people and dedicated over 72 hours over the last two weeks to talk to residents.

"The only endorsement I sought was the voters' endorsement," McCoy said. "I really felt good about the election."

O'Connell is thankful for the opportunity to serve.

"I'm very pleased with the results. I want to take the opportunity to thank all he residents of Wilmington for coming out and casting a ballot on election day," O'Connell said. "I'm grateful and honored to be elected to the Board of Selectmen. I would like to thank my family, friends, and local supporters for their encouragement and enthusiasm throughout my candidacy and I look forward to serving the residents of Wilmington to the best of my ability now and in the future. I had the pleasure of formally meeting Ray Lepore through this process. He was a true gentleman throughout the campaign and a consummate professional. He should be commended for his nine years of dedicated service to the Board of Selectmen and the residents of Wilmington."

For School Committee Bonish edged ahead of Quick by 166 votes, with 1,682 to Quick's 1,516. Manny Mulas came in a distant third with 722 votes, followed by Michael Bodnar with 631, and Karl Sagal brought up the rear with 414. There were seven write-in votes and 171 blanks.

"I'm looking forward to being involved with issues in which I have great interest," said Bonish. "Some people might look at this as work or as a duty. I don't. I love hearing about our schools and our kids' education and I believe I have some good ideas to contribute because I have kids that have gone through the entire system, with one almost done and one still halfway through. I also believe that my professional experience - especially in terms of moving forward with the high school and other 21st century education ideas."

"First, I want to thank those townspeople who came out - rain not shine - to vote," said

Quick. "Thank you to my supporters and those who helped make the day for my friends and family, standing outside, as comfortable as possible. I also want to thank all the candidates in the election: Manny, Michael, Ginny and Karl for their participation and willingness to volunteer their time and energy to the Wilmington school system. Lastly, I welcome Ginny Bonish to the School Committee with open arms; I'm sure she will be a great asset and I look forward to working with her. I will continue to work hard over the next three years, with the goal of always searching for ways to make a great system better."

For Housing authority, a race where there were no candidates on the ballot, Gregory Bendel waged a write-in campaign late in the election season.

Town Clerk Sharon George affirmed Bendel's candidacy saying he did "everything right" to ensure that the results were legal. The race had 2,586 blanks, 300 votes for Bendel, and 143 other write-in votes.

Redevelopment Authority saw the election of Patrick M. Keogan with 1,835. 1,173 votes were left blank. According to George, the Redevelopment Authority has not met in over a year and there is only one other member on the board.

Stabbing suspect arrested

By STEPHEN BJORK

TEWKSBURY - An arrest has been made in connection with the road-rage stabbing incident that occurred in Tewksbury last Wednesday afternoon. Police are charging Breslin Reyes, 19, of 125 Bailey Street in Lawrence, with assault and battery with a dangerous weapon causing serious bodily injury.

Dennis Keohane and a co-worker were headed to work on Wednesday afternoon, April 20, when another driver started tailgating them on Interstate 93. Keohane says he tapped on his brakes to warn the other driver to back off, but when he got off the highway the other driver followed and yelled at them.

Both men exited their cars and the confrontation turned violent. Keohane was stabbed in the head, back and neck. He was treated at a hospital and released later that same day.

Police alerted other departments and the public that they were on the look out for a Hispanic male in his early 20's, standing approximately 5'9". The suspect vehicle was described as a late 90's black (dull finish/not glossy) Honda Civic described as a "low rider" with a loud exhaust.

A tip was phoned into the Wilmington Police Department stating that a vehicle matching that description is often seen on Ballardvale Street in Wilmington. Wilmington detectives alerted Tewksbury detectives, who set up surveillance of the area.

On Tuesday, April 26, Tewksbury detectives observed, what they believed to be, the suspect's vehicle. They followed the vehicle onto Interstate 93 and then pulled it over once it entered Tewksbury.

The operator of the vehicle, Reyes, voluntarily followed detectives back to Tewksbury Police Department for questioning. Subsequent to questioning, at approximately 4:00 p.m., Reyes was taken into custody.

Detectives have obtained a search warrant for Mr. Breslin's 2000 Black Honda

Breslin Reyes

Civic (Ma. Reg. 838DB1) and are, as of press deadline, awaiting State Police Crime Scene Services before a search of the vehicle is conducted.

"Diligence, persistence, and perseverance on the part of all of my Detectives and Officers involved proved effective in the apprehension of Mr. Reyes," said Tewksbury Police Chief Timothy Sheehan. "I am very proud of their solid police work!"

Relay For Life inspires artistic first grader life?" The two agreed it was a good plan. Laquidara called her daughter's school, Greater Visions Children's Center in Chelmsford, and they agreed to support it. She could set up a table at the school, and parents would be informed of the project.

When discussing pricing, the confident little artist exclaimed, "Well, I think they should be worth at least a quarter." But after further discussion with her mom, she was encouraged enough to ask for one dollar each.

Unfortunately the motivation for Team Bosom Buddies to join Relay For Life is strong. "My family has a lot of cancer history," Laquidara explains. Her sister at 33, her mother at 49, and her grandmother at 63, all had breast cancer. She also has a grandfather and aunt who had cancer.

Anyone interested in helping 6-year old Raelyn fight cancer can buy her pictures by simply emailing laqui3214@msn.com for more details. What's more, Bosom Buddies will be holding a Family Fun Day from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m. on May 14 at the Knights of Columbus in Tewksbury. Raelyn will be there selling her pictures. Anyone who would like to drop by and buy one is more than welcomed. To get more information on Family Fun Day, contact Bosom Buddies at laqui3214@msn.co.

Wilmington's Relay For Life will be held Jun 17. The Relay begins with a kick-off ceremony. Activities and entertainment continue throughout the evening. Everyone is invited to stop by for the celebration. All who participate enjoy great music, food, and camaraderie. The Relay is designed to be a fun way to honor survivors. Anyone who is a survivor can register free online. Visit www.wilmingtonrfl.com for more information or to make a donation to Raelyn's Bosom Buddies Team.

Burglary suspect arrested

Wilmington, inadvertently interrupting a burglary in progress. The suspect fled the scene in a gray Audi toward Tewksbury and led police from both towns on a high-speed chase into Lowell. Police momentarily lost the vehicle, but found it moments later with the keys in the ignition and the motor running. Flynn had managed to get away, but police knew his identity (he was operating his roommate's car) and issued a warrant for his arrest.

The Audi was towed back to the Wilmington Police Department where it was searched. Property from multiple burglaries in Tewksbury was recovered, linking him to house breaks on Hodgson Street and Euclid Street. The property included jewelry and a television. Police believe he can be tied to a number of additional house breaks in the area.

On Monday, April 25, at 9:30 a.m., the Tewksbury Police Department responded to a report of a house break at 161 John Street with the suspect still on site. The suspect managed to flee the scene before officers arrived, but the victim was able to provide a detailed description of the suspect's vehicle.

The vehicle was observed moments later by officers on patrol and was successfully stopped. Flynn was arrested and charged with breaking and entering with the intent to commit a felony, larceny of property valued at more than $250, possession of a Class C substance (clonazepam), and operating a motor vehicle after the revocation of his driver's license.

Flynn also faces the warrant out of Wilmington for breaking and entering with the intent to commit a felony, assault & battery, and larceny under $250.00 from April 11.

"We hope the arrest will greatly reduce the number of house breaks in the area," said Wilmington Detective Lt. Christopher Neville.

Tewksbury officers observed numerous suspicious items in Flynn's vehicle, including two large flat screen televisions, cameras, a laptop, and several pieces of jewelry. As Tewksbury detectives obtained a search warrant for Flynn's vehicle, two more residents reported that their homes had been broken into during the morning of April 25. The homes were located at 59 Colonial Drive and 33 Pine Street. The victims reported that televisions, electronics, and jewelry were taken from their homes.

Detectives executed the search warrant, which resulted in the recovery of several pieces of jewelry, televisions, and electronics that were stolen from 161 John Street, 59 Colonial Drive, and 33 Pine Street - all in Tewksbury.

Flynn will be charged additionally with three counts of breaking and entering with the intent to commit a felony, three counts of receiving stolen property valued at more than $250, two counts of receiving stolen property valued at less than $250, failure to stop for police and reckless operation of a motor vehicle.

Flynn is currently being held on $20,000 cash bail.

Boys Lacrosse team off to strong start

Foley lifts Wildcats to dramatic OT win

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

The thrill of victory and the agony of defeat were on full display last Friday afternoon at the Wynn Middle School when the Wilmington and Tewksbury High boys lacrosse teams trudged off the field at the end of a grueling but thrilling 12-11 overtime win for the Wildcats.

Wilmington got the game winning goal from junior attack Trevor Foley with 55 seconds left in the overtime period as he poked home a loose ball with a ground ball shot through a tangle of players for his second overtime goal in the past three games.

With the win, the Wildcats improved to 5-2 on the season, while the Redmen, who had made a valiant comeback with three goals in the final three minutes of regulation, fell to 1-4 on the season.

Wilmington coach Mike Fay was thrilled to see Foley once again come through in overtime. The junior had also scored the game winning overtime goal against Ipswich earlier in the season in similar fashion, by putting in a ground ball rather than lifting the ball into the net.

The technique may not have been textbook, but the results most certainly were just what Fay and the Wildcats were looking for.

"Another ground ball goal for Trevor," Fay joked. "Trevor does a good job. He works hard, and he deserved to get that goal."

The overtime goal was only part of a great day for Foley, as he scored five goals in a performance that could have been even better if not for the stellar efforts of Tewksbury sophomore goalie Matt Donovan, who turned away 13 shots.

"Trevor played a great game," Fay said. "He could have had eight goals. He had a lot of good chances but (Donovan) played great and stuffed him a couple of times with some big saves."

The game never would have even gotten to overtime of not for a tremendous comeback by the Redmen in the closing minutes. After holding leads of 4-1 at the end of the first quarter and 6-4 at halftime, the Wildcats had extended their lead to 11-8 on Ryan Kennedy's third goal of the game with 6:05 remaining.

But any thoughts of coasting victory were squashed by Tewksbury sophomore midfielder Zach Jacobs. A goal by the Redmen with 2:52 left had pulled them closer, but their comeback attempt still looked futile until Jacobs took over in the final 30 seconds, first scoring with 29 seconds left to make the score 11-10 and then even more dramatically putting home the game tying goal with just one second left on the clock in regulation after fighting his way through defenders as he moved from the back of the Wilmington net.

"Tewksbury never quit," Fay said. "On that last goal we had that kid covered, but he just made a great play."

Fay also felt that fatigue may have played role in his team letting up some big goals at the end of regulation.

"We had three games in the week and I know Tewksbury had not played in while and I think that showed up in the fourth quarter," Fay said. "From our point of view, this game just tells us that we need to play better all the way to the end."

Prior to Foley's overtime heroics the Wildcats had kept the game tied thank to the efforts of sophomore goalie Adam Siegel, who made 15 saves on the day, including a pair of big ones in the extra session.

"That's just Adam," Fay said. "He is a first year goalie and he is very athletic and is always looking to make a play for us. He had two key saves in overtime. That was very big for us."

Along with Foley's five goals and Kennedy's hat trick the Wildcats also got a hat trick and three assists from senior attack Peter Leighton, while the Redmen had three goals and an assist from Jacobs to go along with five goals from Brandon Hanifin, and single goals from Frank Mazzei, John Aylward and Sean Foley. Mazzei and Aylward also added an assist on the day.

While there were great performances on both sides, it was the Wildcats who came out on top, something they have made a habit of doing in close games this seasons four of their five wins have come by just one goal, including two in overtime.

"I think it just has to do with our kids passion for the game and their desire to win and to be winners," Fay said. "I am very happy with where we are right now. It is by far our best start ever. We still have some very tough games ahead of us with North Andover and Masconomet, but we will just have to rise to it and I think we will."

Boys tennis team off to surprising red-hot start

By MIKE IPPOLITO & JAMIE POTE

The Wilmington High boys tennis team continued their surprising start to the season on Tuesday afternoon with an impressive 4-1 win on the road over Cape Ann League rival Ipswich.

The win improved the Wildcats record on the season to 3-1, having already pulled off a pair of wins that just a year ago would not have seemed possible, and seemed even more unlikely this season when they lost six of their seven starters from last year's squad.

Last week they knocked off Lynnfield for what was believed to be the first time in school history, and while the win over Ipswich was not as historic, it was still a big stepping stone for the Wildcats.

"This was a tremendous win for us," Wilmington coach Rob Mailey said. "Last year we lost to them 5-0 and we did not take a set. We have some good stuff going on right now and in this one being mentally tough was the theme of the day."

Indeed the Wildcats did show some great mental toughness, particularly in the doubles matches where they won both matches in three sets to seal the victory.

The first doubles team of seniors John Malone and Reg DellaPelli bounced back after a tough loss in the first set to win a hard fought 6-7, 6-3, 6-1 match while the second doubles duo of juniors Jamie Marra and Zach Anderson fought back even more impressively, winning 6-1, 2-6, 6-1.

The Wildcats led 2-1 after the singles matches were completed and Mailey knew that he would need at least one of his doubles teams to come up big in order for his team to pull the upset. They both did just that.

"In first doubles they just got more aggressive as they went along. They made fewer errors and played very smart. John in particular served very well. They stepped up big time," Mailey said. "And Jamie and Zach did a great job getting themselves back together after the second set. They played very well on big points."

The Wildcats also did very well in their singles matches, particularly in first singles where senior captain Adam Kline continued what has been a remarkable season so far with a 6-1, 6-2 victory.

"He beat a very good player and he just dominated," Mailey said. "He is using his quickness to his advantage. He is extremely focused and this was a great win for him."

In third singles sophomore Will MacKinnon also continued his hot streak with a straight set 6-3, 6-4 victory.

"Will also beat a good opponent," Mailey said. "He is doing very well, especially for a sophomore. He knows what he has to do and he listens to coaching. He just wore the other kid down and toughed it out."

Mailey in fact has been pleased with the toughness of his entire team and has been absolutely thrilled with the results to this point.

"I can't say enough about our kids' mental toughness," Mailey said. "It was a cold day in Ipswich and they could have just packed it in, but they battled all the way through. We are playing with a lot of confidence right now."

Wilmington High sophomore Katie Richardson returns a volley for the Varsity Girls Tennis team during their match held Tuesday at the Textron Courts. Richardson and the rest of the Wildcats were defeated 5-0.

"I am really enjoying this group. They are very coachable and they are working very hard. It is still early but we are already surprising some people. Hopefully we can surprise a few more."

WHS SOFTBALL

The Wilmington High School Girls Softball team picked up its first win of the season last week defeating Masconomet Regional, 6-3.

Senior Tori Lord was the winning pitcher for the Wildcats as she went the distance giving up one earned run on seven hits, while walking three and striking out four. She was helped out offensively by sophomores Kim Woods and Jackie Kennedy, who had key hits in the team's four-run fifth inning. Woods ended up collecting two hits and knocking in a run and Kennedy had a big RBI hit in that rally. Lauren Zaremba and Chelsey Westerberg also had RBI hits, and junior center fielder Cristina Wilson had a nice all defensive game with the glove.

The Wildcats are now 1-2 on the season and have a busy week ahead facing Tewksbury and Ipswich both on the road on Thursday and Friday, before coming home Monday night to face Lynnfield before going back on the road on Wednesday to face Rockport.

WHS BASEBALL

Junior Phil Lentini was the hero on Tuesday afternoon as he drove a two-run single as part of Wilmington's three run ninth inning to help the Wilmington High School Baseball team defeat North Reading, 7-6 in extra innings during a Cape Ann League contest. The win improves the Wildcats' to 2-3 on the young season.

The game was tied at 4-4 through eight innings and then in the top of the ninth the Wildcats scored three runs on a RBI groundout by Dalton Rolli and then the two-run single by Lentini. North Reading scored two runs in the home half and had the tying run on second base by John Keough ended those thoughts by striking out the final batter to record his first victory of the season.

Andy Owens led the offense with three hits, while Chris Frissore and Rolli each had two hits, including a double and knocked in a run, while, Lentini added a triple with his two run game winning safety. Vin Scifo and Mike Ciampa also had single RBIs.

Scifo started and went the first seven innings giving up three earned runs on nine hits while walking one and striking out three. Keough finished up the final two innings giving up one earned run while striking out three to get the win.

Wilmington is back in action with a home game on Thursday against Ipswich, before traveling to Lynnfield on Saturday morning and then coming back home on Tuesday to face Rockport.

WHS BOYS TRACK

The Wildcats improved to 5-0 on the season as they barely edged out Amesbury 74-71 in a very exciting Cape Ann League Boys Track-and-Field Meet.

"We were missing a lot of key contributors, however, the kids worked extremely hard and showed perseverance and tenacity in fighting off a 45-point deficit to pull out the win," said head coach Mike Kinney.

Senior Nate Downs had a monster day as he took home first places in the high jump (5-9), long jump (18-

10) and 400 meters (55.1) and was part of the winning 4x400 relay team along with Steve Halas, DJ Livermore and John Weber, who had a combined time of 3:47.

Zack Sears was also a double winner as he won the two mile and the 800.

"Nate Downs and Zack Sears have proven to be great leaders and point scorers for the team," said Kinney.

Halas also won the mile coming in at 4:55, Anthony DeSimone took the 110 meter hurdles and the 4x100 relay team of Livermore, John Parsons, Peter Warren and Ed DeLucia also won with a combined time of 55.9 seconds. DeLucia (200) and Livermore (400) also took seconds, and Parsons swiped a third in the javelin tossing 121-10.

Pat McGondel and Erik Alatalo were also double place finishers. McGondel was second in the pole vault and third in the triple jump, and Alatalo was second in the two mile and third in the 800.

Rounding out the scoring with second places included Colin Chase in the 400 hurdles and Marc Shibilila in the 100, as well as third places from JJ Terlaga in the pole vault and Andrew Fino in the 200.

"We face a tough stretch coming up against Triton, Newburyport, and North Andover," said Kinney. "Newburyport was undefeated in the winter and they also won the Division 4 State Indoor Championship. Triton suffered only one loss indoor and they were the CAL Large Champs. We are going to need some big performances to beat the league leaders but we appear up to the challenge."

Rams Softball team picks up big victory

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

The Shawsheen Tech softball team picked up a big Commonwealth Athletic Conference victory on Monday afternoon at home on Monday afternoon, picking up a 5-2 win over rival Whittier Tech to solidify their hold atop the CAC standing,

But after the game, it was not her big win that most people were talking about, but rather about a Shawsheen player avoiding a potentially nasty injury thanks to her innovative thinking.

In the top of the fifth inning, Shawsheen sophomore pitcher Meghan Walsh of Tewksbury took a line drive to her face of the bat of a Whittier hitter. It could have been a devastating injury if not for Walsh's decision to wear a facemask while pitching this season.

It was a decision that earned her some ribbing from another league opponent earlier in the season, but it was Walsh who had the last laugh when she was able to walk off the field after the play with nothing more than a bruised forehead and a dented facemask.

Shawsheen coach Maureen Buckley was grateful that her player avoided major injury and she will be sure that all of her pitchers will follow

Walsh's example and wear a facemasks in the future.

"Meghan has been cleared to play as soon as she feels she is ready, but if it was not for that facemask we would be talking about reconstructive surgery," Buckley said. "It bent the metal frame on the mask, so she is very fortunate."

With the move of the pitcher's mound back three feet this season to a total of 43 feet in order to give hitters more time to adjust for each pitch, Buckley had considered facemasks for her entire pitching staff at the start of the season, and the play that Walsh survived was a perfect example as to why.

"We were debating whether to make it mandatory for all of them to wear a mask at the start of the year, and now in the interest of safety I have no qualms about having them all wear the mask. Our third basemen will wear one as well."

Emily Hamilton of Tewksbury entered the game to replace Walsh, wearing a facemask for the first time and did not appear to show any ill effects as she allowed just one run in picking up the win.

As for the game itself, the Lady Rams came up with the win by putting together a clutch four run rally in the bottom of the sixth inning with the score tied at 1-1.

Senior third baseman Kristina Lees of Wilmington got the rally started with a double and moved to third on a single by catcher Stephanie Champoux of Tewksbury. After Champoux stole second, both runners scored on a double by Brooke Mallahan of Tewksbury, making the score 3-1.

Two batters later Franny Pesantes of Tewksbury singled to drive in Mallahan and Emily Knoops who had also reached base, to make the score 5-1. Although Whittier fought back to score a run in the top of the seventh the Lady Rams were able to hold on for the win.

While Shawsheen had rallied late to pull out a close game against non-league rival Wilmington earlier in the year, all of their league games this season had ended in blowouts. Buckley felt that this win showed her more about her team than any of those earlier routs.

"This was a huge win for us. The girls had an opportunity to fold it up after Meghan got hurt, but said we wanted to win for her and they did it," Buckley said. "It is a huge positive for us to come up with a win like this over Whittier."

Forte Memorial Event, May 15

The Women of Wilmington (WOW) invite you to join in "Strengthening the Community, One Step at a Time" at the First Annual 5K Run for Wilmington/Kim Forte Walk. The race is open to runners and walkers of all ages and athletic abilities. You can register as an individual, or join one of the many teams that are giving back to their local organizations through donations and Kim was a mainstay on the streets of Wilmington. On any given day, one could see her walking and biking around town - no matter the weather - with a huge, infectious smile. On race day WOW will remember and celebrate Kim's life by walking the neighborhoods she so loved in her honor.

The First Annual 5K Run

Tewksbury Youth Lacrosse wrap-up

Boys Under 13-1

Tewksbury 10, Dracut 4 The Tewksbury Boys Lacrosse U13-1 team put on a second dominating performance in as many games, in this young season. The opponent this week was Dracut with the local boys coming out on top 10 -4.

Putting forward an impressive performance in goal was Patrick Hunt who was backed up by a strong defensive trio of Kevin Carta, JP Mooney, and Ben Connors. They stepped up to the challenge with some regular defensive players missing from the game and kept Dracut's results to a minimum.

The offense came from many players showing a complete well balanced team performance. Nick Diminico and Brendan Sjostedt both led the way with two goals each, assisted by Chris Lucas' sharp passing from behind the net. Nick Muise, Drew Fletcher, and Lucas each added to the Tewksbury tally with one unassisted goal each. Jimmy Strickler assisted on another score as he found an open Shawn O'Neil who put it into the Dracut net. Muise was not only scoring, but he fed Ethan Hepler who beat the Dracut goalie for yet another well executed goal. Kevin Carta rounded out the scoring for the team as he took the ball from his defensive position down the field and scored unassisted.

Boys Under 15-1

Tewksbury 10, Arlington 3 The Tewksbury's Boys U15-1 team recorded a win during the first home game of the season. It was a decisive win, but it came at the expense of personal injuries. Starting midfielder Matt DiFelice suffered a broken leg during the first quarter of the game and will be out for the balance of the season. Matt has been a dominant player in the center midfield position.

The remainder of the game was played in his honor. Late in the game starting defenseman Henry Roberts injured his hip after two scores and a tremendous three quarters of solid defense. Even with these setbacks of the team's two seasoned starters, they overcame them with a solid performance on offense and defense. Captains for the game were Scott Pastorello and Henry Roberts. Tewksbury's defense was anchored by Garrett Christopher, Ryan Cunningham, Henry Roberts, and goalie Jake Marchant. Michael Lirakis had a shining performance for his first action of the season, causing many turnovers and moving the ball up the field.

The offense seemed to score at will and spread the goals among five players. David Dempsey lead the assault with (3) goals - a hat trick - followed by Grant Callanan (2), Pat O'Brien (2), Henry Roberts (2), and Mark Gorman (1). Justin LaCau, Jack MacMullin and Michael Baker stepped up their stick handling and passing skills in a strong display of offensive control. TJ Contalonis and Joyce Connor played a tough defense, protecting their end of the field well and returning the ball quickly to their offensive zone.

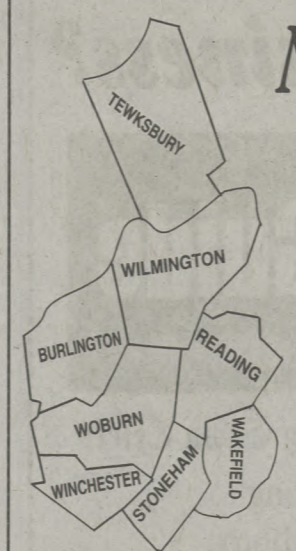

Boys Under 15-2

Littleton 9, Tewksbury 7

After starting the season off with a convincing 15-9 win last week, Tewksbury lost their rematch to Littleton 9-7. Missing key players including the starting goalie, the team was able to make it a close contest falling short in the final quarter. Midfielder Dominic Romarinofski who also happens to be a stand out hockey goalie stepped up in net for the first half of the game, but after making a goal saving hit in front of the crease had to come off with a back injury.

Defenseman Jonathan Tower took his place and did exceptionally well to keep his team in the game despite having no prior experience in net. Other contributors on the defensive half included Joshua Cho, Luc Surette, and Tyler Harrington.

The goal scorers for Tewksbury were John Casey with a hat trick, Jimmy Hirtle(2), Brendan Kelly, and Colin Quinn. Tewksbury bounced back in a non league game versus rival Wilmington with a 6-3 win. Thanks to the dominating performance in the faceoff circle the team was able to get a majority of the possessions. Taking advantage of these possessions were goal scorers Collin Quinn (2 goals, 1 assist), James Sullivan (1 goal, 1 assist), Sean Brady, Jimmy Hirtle, and John Casey. Troy Carey chipped in on offense with an assist. Brendan Cooke returned to net making nine crucial saves in a close game.

Tewksbury Youth Soccer round-up

Girls Under 10-2

Chelmsford 4, Tewksbury 0
The GU10-2 played their second game of the season against Chelmsford GU10-2; unfortunately Tewksbury came up short in the end losing 4-0. Chelmsford scored early on a couple of breakaways and lead 2-0 at the end of the half.

The Tewksbury girls came out of the half with some great scoring opportunities, but failed to find the back of the net. Madison Bourassa, Emma Scopa, Brianna Walker, and Cassidy Grunning applied pressure on the offensive end coming up with some good opportunities in the second half. MaryCate Cassidy and Sophie Eskenas played very well in the middle of the field helping on defense and supporting the offense. Julie Ozek, Jess Potito, and Kiley Tibbetts were tough on defense making it tough for Chelmsford to get a sustained attack going. Rebecca Smith was her usual steady presence in goal.

Girls Under 10-4

Woburn 1, Tewksbury 0
The Tewksbury girls U-10-4 team lost a close one to Woburn on Saturday 1-0, they played the game with only 1 sub as some girls were away on vacation and out sick. The steady cold rain made for extremely tough conditions but the girls put in an incredible effort. The girls played a solid first half keeping Woburn at bay with no score on the board. In goal Julia Cafferty made some incredible saves throughout the game. Cora Barrett and Ryan Quinn played strong defensively making some nice plays while defending the goal. During the game Hannah Slattery and Erin Carter had some strong rushes but could not get past Woburn's goaltender.

The second half of the game the girls played well together with some good passes and shots on Woburn's net. Offensively, Gianna DiGiorgio and Julia Garland keep the ball on Woburn's defensive side for a majority of the second half. Woburn was able to score one goal on the Crushers in the second half.

Girls Under 12-1

Tewksbury 1, Woburn 0
Tewksbury's midfielders, Allison Paracini, Lillian Holden and Emily Sessa played outstanding throughout. Their play sparked some good offensive rushes from the Tewksbury forwards, Jessica Cacciola, Sam Schultz, Rachel Prevost and Kayla Devlin. Tewksbury had to fight through more adversity when Isabelle Picher made a great crossing pass to Emily Sessa and she blasted one by the Woburn goalie. The celebration was short lived as the referee called the goal back due to an offside's penalty.

Tewksbury's defensive unit of Victoria Mirabito, Rachel Sessa, Maggie Penta and Isabelle Picher continue to excel this season with some impressive play. They were able to minimize any Woburn attacks on their own net. Lindsay Harris played tremendous in goal and earned her second shutout of the season.

With less than a minute to go, Tewksbury's pressure finally hit pay dirt. Kelly Golini and Emily Sessa worked a textbook give and go to put the Redman on top. Golini gave a great pass to Sessa and she placed one perfectly past the Woburn goalie. This time, the goal stood and Tewksbury came away with an impressive 1-0 victory.

Girls Under 12-2

Tewksbury 2, Chelmsford 0
The players, coaches, and parents of Tewksbury GU12-2 spent Saturday afternoon battling heavy rain and winds on the pitch against 1st place division rival Chelmsford. Chelmsford won the coin flip and kicked off to start the game. Their top players worked the ball carefully into the offensive zone but the Tewksbury defenders were patient as they gave ground but did not break under the attacking pressure. Sam Surowiec anchored the middle of the defensive zone. Stephanie Graffeo and Katie Famiglietti fought hard along the sidelines and forced the turnovers which Sam was able to clear all the way into the attacking zone. Kelly Fortier danced her way past the Chelmsford midfielders opening up passing lanes and hitting fellow mids Andrea DiCiaccio and Brottany Malfa.

YOUTH SOCCER PG SP8C

Youth Soccer round-up

There were a number of solid scoring chances for Tewksbury in the first half including a hard shot by Allison Couillard from the right side across an open net which clanged off the left post and ricocheted away.

The second half started and both teams were fighting to get on the board first. Ashley Antonelli and Emily Langone fought and won multiple 50/50 challenges sending the ball ahead for Sarah Ciampa and Madison Wescott. At the 15 minute mark Madison picked up the loose ball in the Chelmsford zone, tipped it away from the defender, then won the race to the ball against the Chelmsford keeper who was unable to make any kind of save when Madison sent in a solid shot to the open side of the net.

Chelmsford ramped up the pressure and manufactured a number of solid scoring chances to try and tie the game. Allison Couillard was rock solid in net handling the slippery ball cleanly and powering up the attack with strong goalie kicks over midfield. It was on one of these kicks that the Tewksbury midfielder deflected the ball forward and Madison was there to gather it up. She made her way forward breaking past the Chelmsford defender and the keeper raced out to try and kick the ball away before Maddy could set up her shot. Madison popped the ball up and away from the keeper and raced past her to settle down the loose ball and send it into a wide open net for the insurance goal with 8 minutes left to play.

The defense clamped down and Allison Couillard made a few more memorable saves to keep Chelmsford off the board and secure the victory.

Girls Under 12-3

Wilmington 3, Tewksbury 1
Jocelyn Duval and Karina Crowley defended the Racers net in stellar fashion. Emily Stewart scored the lone goal for the Racers off of a corner kick by Karina Crowley that was deflected by Maeve Moynihan. Sammy Alman and Danielle Carrigg were strong in the defensive position. The forwards for this game gave the Wilmington goalie plenty to stop with several shots on net by Rachel Figuica, Robin Czarniecki, Deidre Roache, Brigid Voto and Erin Coutler.

Tewksbury 5, Chelmsford 1
The Chelmsford team got off to a quick start, scoring their only goal within the first minute of play. The Tewksbury Racers responded just as quick with their first goal, scored by Karina Crowley from a pass by Robin Czarniecki. Maeve Moynihan scored the next goal for the Racers off a rebound from the Chelmsford goalie. The third goal was scored before half time by Robin Czarniecki with a great follow-through shot at the net. Jocelyn Duval defended the Tewksbury net the first half and made some excellent stops in the muddy net.

The second half was action packed as well, as the rain became more consistent. Emily Stewart scored two goals in this half, the first after receiving a leading pass from Jocelyn Duval up the middle of the field, and the second after receiving a pass from Maeve Moynihan and Deidre Roche. Sam Alman and Danielle Carrigg were fearless in the defensive positions. Brigid Voto, Erin Coutler, Rachel Figuica and Becky Reynolds were awesome on the offensive line, pushing the ball forward, passing and crossing the ball to the open man to aid in the victory. Karina Crowley again showed her tough goalie stance in the second half resulting a shut out with some outstanding saves, such as body dive, close-up shots and air shots.

Girls Under 12-4

Reading 2, Tewksbury 1
TYSL girls U12-4 hosted Reading for a Friday evening match to close out the vacation week. TYSL played a controlled first half and showed excellent team play. First offensive drive up the field initiated by Priya Vijay playing left fullback to Emily Satterfield created an opportunity 18 yards off the Reading net with Amanda Satterfield. The Redmen were eager to be the first to find the back of the net. Samantha LaLonde held striker early on in the match with many opportunities

Youth Soccer round-up

despite the Reading defenders consistency of showing multiple defenders inside the box and often being double teamed.

Molly Hodgson defended the net as keeper for the first half showing excellent distribution of the ball. After many great saves early in the half, Reading found the corner just out of reach putting them on the board for the first goal of the match. The Redmen were not going to let up the pressure.

Late in the half, stopper Nicole Toland took advantage of a well placed chip shot from beyond the penalty arc and was able to find the top shelf matching the Reading goal to tie the score 1-1. Reading responded quickly finding the far post nearing the end of the half with the Redmen down 2-1.

With two minutes left in the match another team effort with a drive started from sweeper Mary Cortes pushing the ball wide to Miranda Hulme. Miranda drove up the wing and connected with stopper Emily Satterfield who took a on two Reading defenders and created an opportunity with right wing Amanda Satterfield finishing with a shot on goal. Despite great team movement of the ball, the Reading keeper denied many opportunities throughout the game. Madeline MacMullin played keeper for the Redmen for the second half keeping the Reading offense scoreless for the remainder of the game.

Tewksbury 2, Somerville 2
Amanda Satterfield would hold Somerville scoreless in the first half by playing an aggressive keeper position for Tewksbury. The Redmen came out strong to set the tone early of maintaining control and possession with ball control. Sweeper Mary Cortes, worked several drives up the field with midfielders Miranda Hulme and Elizabeth Barrett looking to finish with striker Samantha LaLonde.

In the final seconds of the half Priya Vijay took advantage of an offensive drive across the 18 yard line moving past the defenders and finishing the ball strong with a shot to the back of the net giving TYSL the lead going into the second half.

Early on in the second half, Nicole Toland executed several offensive head balls. One was off a Redmen throw in from Emily Satterfield moving the ball down field connecting with Alyssa Theodos looking to finish the drive up the wing. Somerville answered ten minutes into the second half to tie the game with a top corner shot out of reach of second half goal keeper Madeline MacMullin. The Redmen would not let up and pressed forward. Following 3 consecutive corner kick attempts to slide the ball past Somerville Molly Hodgson closed down the attacking space and knocked a solid shot driven in from 25 yards out to regain the lead. Somerville would answer 15 minutes later; final score would end with a 2-2 tie.

Tewksbury 1, Melrose 0
Combining efforts to preserve the shutout, Kayleigh Bishop and Molly McDonald made kick saves and smothered the ball respectively as they shared duties as goalkeeper. From the backfield, Mary Bliss and Emily Duquette harassed Melrose's forwards with disruptive tackles to prevent any pursuit to the net. Working the midfield, Alyssa Aurilio and Catherine Ozek clogged the passing channels to create scoring opportunities for their teammates.

Providing tenacious havoc, Monica Aronson and Dimple Gandhi forced the Melrose backfield to erroneously lose the ball out of bounds to set up throw-ins at the offensive end of the field. Finding her sister racing toward the Melrose net, Ariana Calouro passed the ball to Makayla Calouro who tapped in Tewksbury's lone goal.

Receiving a corner kick drilled by Stephanie McHatton, Katie Adelsberger popped the ball on net only to be stumped by the Melrose keeper. Throughout the first half, Nicole Salvato cruised in from left forward, but she couldn't capitalize on her chances.

Wilmington man to push 800 lb wheelbarrow 15 miles for a great cause

By PAUL FEELY

It's been over 10 years since Wilmington's Jerry Bowser was told by doctors that he would never be the same again after suffering a stroke. If you ask him now about it, he'll tell you those docs were right - he's been changed for the better.

That day in Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston, Bowser was focused on just being able to put one foot in front of the other again. These days he is focused on those same basic actions again, but for a different reason - he is once again loading up a wheelbarrow for a good cause, prepared to take on a herculean feat in the shadow of some of the most hallowed locations in America, all in the name of helping those that helped keep this country free through times of war and peace.

On Saturday, May 14, in Washington, DC, Bowser will push a wheelbarrow, weighing 800 lbs., 15 miles through the National Mall and Memorial Parks.

He is passionate about raising awareness and funds for the group Homes For Our Troops.

"Some of these wounded warriors, they say to me, 'How are your arms going to do it?' But they don't even have arms to worry about," Bowser said, who is calling his fundraising effort the Power Push.

"It's not who's pushing the wheelbarrow, it's why the wheelbarrow's being pushed," he said. "It really isn't about the Boston Brawler, it's about how many zeros I can get on that check. That's what's important to me."

Bowser said the push will be dedicated to his father, Charles Bowser, who died Jan. 22, 2010. He was a veteran of the Korean War, driving a tank retriever during his days in the U.S. Army.

"If he were here, as much as he would say, 'You're crazy for doing this again,' he would find a way deep down to support it if he knew what it was for," Bowser said. "I know he's watching me, and behind it all the way."

Bowser works as a professional strength and conditioning coach and fitness trainer, carrying with him over 20 years experience.

Jerry, also known as the Boston Brawler (a name he has registered to trademark), is a former professional wrestler who traveled the world wrestling for seven years. He was also a professional water skier for the U.S. Water Skiing Association where he was ranked as one of the top 20 skiers in the U.S.

In 2001, Jerry suffered a stroke after a successful wrestling match at Madison Square Garden. His very promising career was suddenly ended and his life was altered forever. He was paralyzed and underwent significant surgery. He was told his career was over and that he may never walk again.

Jerry, a father of two, a committed athlete and a family man, would not accept this without a fight.

"I told my doctors 'give me 17 days and I will walk on my own,' I wasn't going to stop there," said Bowser. "17 days later, I was walking about 90 feet down a corridor by myself."

This experience strengthened and inspired Bowser to give back to his community and help others appreciate physical fitness. He established a charitable foundation for stroke patients; and later, after losing his father to cancer, another for cancer patients.

He is currently affiliated with a training gym in Winchester. He runs strength and conditioning camps for all athletic levels. His training practice provides total fitness and training for students and professional athletes, including several NHL players.

Bowser's Power Push fundraising effort will take place May 14 in Washington, D.C., where he will attempt to push 800 pounds for 15 miles. Beginning at the Arlington National Cemetery at 7 a.m., Bowser will embark on a route that will take him past the Lincoln Memorial, the Marine Corps War Memorial, the Naval Observatory, and the Naval Memorial and White House, ending with him scheduled to appear onstage at the GI Film Festival at the Navy Memorial Theater. He expects the trip to take less than eight hours to complete, but many factors can play a part, including the heat.

Bowser is looking to raise $1 million in donations for Homes For Our Troops, a nonprofit organization that helps build specially adapted homes for severely injured veterans.

According to the group's website, Homes For Our Troops is a national non-profit, non-partisan 501(c)(3) organization founded in 2004.

"We are strongly committed to helping those who have selflessly given to our country and have returned home with serious disabilities and injuries since September 11, 2001. It is our duty and our honor to assist severely injured Servicemen and Servicewomen and their immediate families by raising dona-

Bowser to S-4

WILMINGTON'S JERRY BOWSER will raise funds for Homes For Our Troops by pushing this 800 lb wheelbarrow 15 miles.

Movie Reviews

by Paul Feely

"SCREAM 4" STILL FUN

THIS FOURTH INSTALLMENT OF THE "SCREAM" SERIES marks the return of writer Kevin Williamson who brings a great deal of entertainment and fun to the film. A new Ghostface killer is on the loose and Sidney Prescott (Neve Campbell) teams up with a former reporter (Courtney Cox) to find the murderer.

GRADE: **

Like the second 'Scream' movie pointed out, sequels are almost always inferior to the original, but they can still be fun.

This fourth installment of the series, which began in the 1990s, marks the return of writer Kevin Williamson, and he brings a great deal of entertainment and fun back to the film.

The plot goes like this: on the 15th anniversary of the Woodsboro murders, a new Ghostface killer is on the loose and Sidney Prescott (Neve Campbell) has returned home to promote a self-help book that she's written.

Former reporter Gale Weathers (Courtney Cox) is now the bored wife of Woodsboro Sheriff Dewey Riley. When the killer surfaces again, offing teenagers after calling them on the phone as is his (or her) trademark, it's up to the old trio to figure out who the killer is and stop him or them.

Along with the old familiar faces, there's also a new group of teenagers for the maniac to kill and for younger members of the audience to relate to. They're lead by Sidney's cousin Jill (played by Emma Roberts). Recognizable faces in the cast include Hayden Panettiere (Heroes) and Rory Culkin, one of the many Culkin children to enter the acting profession.

The Scream movies are famous for their self-referential nature and that is still true with this one. The opening scene is the ultimate expression of that, as it shows a movie within a movie within a movie, with various girls in varying states of being scared and murdered, discussing and analyzing the horror film genre. There are also several in-movie references to the previous Scream films that longtime fans will recognize.

Williamson also has a lot of fun with horror cliches. One scene involving a woman alone in a parking garage both makes fun of and use of several standard horror movie situations.

While the plot is once again nothing more than a series of murders, the humor and script makes it feel fresh.

"HANNA"

GRADE: ***

Action sequences save this film, which often finds itself teetering on the edge of absurdity.

The plot goes like this: A teenage girl goes out into the world for the first time, and is forced to battle for her life. Talk about the perils of leaving home.

Director Joe Wright weaves elements of dark fairy tales into the adventure thriller Hanna, filmed on location in Europe and Morocco. Hanna (played by Academy Award nominee Saoirse Ronan of Atonement, also directed by Wright) is 16 years old. She is bright, inquisitive, and a devoted daughter.

Uniquely, she has the strength, the stamina, and the smarts of a soldier; these come from being raised by her widowed father Erik (Eric Bana), an ex-CIA man, in the wilds of North Finland.

Erik has taught Hanna to hunt, put her through extreme self-defense workouts, and home-schooled her with only an encyclopedia and a book of fairy tales. Hanna has been living a life unlike any other teenager; her upbringing and training have been one and the same, all geared to making her the perfect assassin. But out in the world there is unfinished business for Hanna's family, and it is with a combination of pride and apprehension that Erik realizes his daughter can no longer be held back.

In the first moments of Hanna, the audience realizes this is unlike any father-daughter relationship they have ever seen before. Erik sneaks up on Hanna and throws her to the ground. She leaps up and starts pounding him senseless.

Those scenes are weird enough, but they don't accurately capture the overall strangeness of the film.

The movie straddles the canyon of absurdity, as the action sequences featuring the young girl make the film resemble something like 'Jason Bourne: The Teenage Years.'

Once caught, Hanna escapes, but with a CIA operative, Marissa (a very evil Cate Blanchett) tracking her. The strength of the film is not the plot, but instead the constant gun-fights, assassinations, chases and brawls.

"SOURCE CODE"

GRADE: ***

'Source Code' is such a well-made science fiction film that you won't mind that much of the elements of its plot are borrowed from other movies and/or television series.

The plot revolves around the following storyline: When decorated soldier Captain Colter Stevens (Jake Gyllenhaal) wakes up in the body of an unknown man, he discovers he's part of a mission to find the bomber of a Chicago commuter train.

In an assignment unlike any he's ever known, he learns he's part of a government experiment called the "Source Code," a program that enables him to cross over into another man's identity in the last 8 minutes of his life. With a second, much larger attack threatening to kill millions in downtown Chicago, Colter re-lives the incident over and over again, gathering clues each time, until he can solve the mystery of who is behind the bombs and prevent the next attack.

The story borrows bits of many, many movies and TV shows: Groundhog Day and 12 Monkeys primarily, but also portions of Quantum Leap, Speed, Avatar, and several different episodes of Lost.

Much like the mash-up of plotlines used to create it, the movie is an action piece, a thriller, a romance, and a whole lot more - and works on almost every level.

The only time it stumbles is an ending that feels awkward, overly sentimental - not like the rest of the film at all.

The film is literally a race against time with each 8 minute repeat of the mission bringing Stevens more answers about the terrorist plot and himself.

Vera Fermiga as the Army captain commanding Stevens and Jeffrey Wright as the scientist who created the "source code" technology add strong support.

With a mind-bending premise, "Source Code" will keep you guessing and will not disappoint.

"SUCKER PUNCH"

GRADE: **

"Sucker Punch" is an epic action fantasy that takes us into the vivid imagination of a young girl whose dream world provides the ultimate escape from her darker reality, but the storytelling and characters (while nice to look at), leave a lot to be desired.

Unrestrained by the boundaries of time and place, the young girl, Babydoll, is free to go where her mind takes her, and her incredible adventures blur the lines between what's real and what is imaginary.

The action is great, the music is pumping, but this is one movie that will only be enjoyed by Snyder's most diehard fans.

"By the time the new school year starts in September, Burlington High School will become the first, and most likely the only, public school in Massachusetts to implement a 1:1 technology initiative with iPads," notes the Burlington edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"At the School Committee's most recent meeting, Burlington High Principal Patrick Larkin provided the board with the latest updates and a timeline regarding when and how the process is going to play out.

"The choice to use iPads was made for a variety of reasons by the School Department and the 1:1 Implementation Committee, which is made up of a group including teachers, parents, students, and administrators.

"Larkin reiterated to the board that the iPad was selected primarily because of its price tag of $500 and its battery life of about 10 hours, which is four to five hours more than a typical laptop.

"In regard to a financial commitment, School Supt. Dr. Eric Conti figures the cost of the 1:1 program is going to be $200,000 per year, but the board was informed that the cost will be somewhat offset by other savings.

"During the 2011-12 school year, the cost of iPads will be partially offset by a reduction in book leases, by making the decision to retire an older technology lease, and by reducing the high school's permanent substitute staff by one.

"Larkin believes that within four years, the high school will move to 'device freedom' meaning that each student will be able to bring the device of their choosing to school, a plan that means the department will most likely not be providing the devices free of charge indefinitely. These devices would likely be supplied by parents, but the school will have a support program for disadvantaged families.

"According to Larkin, students should not expect to have privacy on their iPads as he noted that the devices will be property of the School Department and can be checked by staff for inappropriate content ...

"On June 22-24, the Apple Educators are coming to the high school to work with a group of Burlington teachers. As the teachers take part in the 'train the trainer' session, they will get the chance to familiarize themselves with the tool and its possibilities over the summer.

"Those teachers will in turn be a resource for their colleagues.

"Furthermore, Larkin is planning on putting together a team of approximately 35 students who will staff a 'help desk'...."

These contributions enable the library to continue to provide over 150 magazine subscriptions available to all Wakefield citizens. Currently nearly 40 community organizations and individuals are donating 51 magazine subscriptions.

•MIDDLESEX EAST SPORTS WEEKLY TRIVIA:

How many stitches are there on a baseball?
Answer appears elsewhere in this column.

•On the heels of throwing the fifth no-hitter in UMass Lowell baseball history, VINNY DEPIERRO (TEWKSBURY, MASS.) was named the Northeast-10 Pitcher of the Week last week.

In just his third start of the season, DePierro mystified Saint Michael's in a 10-0 seven inning victory on Tuesday, April 12. The southpaw allowed no hits or walks, with the only two players reaching base on an error and a hit batsmen. The sophomore retired 10 consecutive players to start the game and finished with eight strikeouts—one shy of his career-high.

The no-hitter was the first by a River Hawk since Matt Marengi on May 1, 1999 against Bryant.

A transfer student from Bunker Hill Community College, DePierro has been strong in his first season at UMass Lowell. He has compiled a 2-0 record with a 1.33 ERA in 20.1 innings pitched. DePierro has fanned 21 batters and is limiting opponents to a .113 batting average against, the lowest among River Hawk starters.

•Senior Cory Murray (Methuen, Mass.) won his fourth shot put title in as many weeks to lead the UMass Lowell men's track and field team at the Brown University Invitational.

The Invitational attracted schools and athletes representing all three NCAA divisions as well as several independent athletes representing postgraduate track and field clubs.

Murray, who has won titles at the Bridgewater, Fitchburg and UMass Lowell George Davis invitationals, continued his run Saturday with a throw of 52 feet, 10.75 inches. He led three River Hawk throwers in the top 10 places as freshman Ryan O'Grady (Billerica, Mass.) placed ninth with a toss of 40', 0.75" and freshman Kevin Peter (North Attleboro, Mass.) 10th with a distance of 38' 7.0".

Peter also placed seventh in the hammer throw (147' 10.0") and eighth in the discus (133' 11.0") while O'Grady placed 10th in the discus with a throw of 124' 6.0".

Murray was one of three individual winners on the day for UMass Lowell as SOPHOMORE EVAN WHITE (TEWKSBURY, MASS.) and freshman Keith Lewis (Nashua, N.H.) each won their third titles in as many weeks.

White captured the 400 meter dash in 48.68 seconds and led two teammates in the top five places. Sophomore Craig Bennett (Milton, Mass.) placed second in 48.68 seconds while freshman Tim Regan (Sandwich, Mass.) took fifth in 50.54..

•Sophomore Shannon Cunningham (Foxboro, Mass.) won the 400 meter dash to lead the UMass Lowell women's track and field team at the Brown University Invitational.

The Invitational attracted schools and athletes representing all three NCAA divisions as well as several independent athletes representing postgraduate track and field clubs.

In other events, sophomore Kelly Walton (Nahant, Mass.) placed 18th overall (second) in the mile (5:13.83) while FRESHMEN APRIL O'DONNELL (STONEHAM, MASS.) and KYLA HIGGINS (TEWKSBURY, MASS.) took ninth and 10th in the hammer throw. O'Donnell placed third among Division II-III throwers with a distance of 87' 1.0" while Higgins was fourth (72' 4.0").

•FRESHMAN SPRINTER KEVIN MACIEL (TEWKSBURY, MA) has been named this week's MAS-CAC Men's Outdoor Track Athlete of the Week for helping lead the Lancers to first place finish at the UMass Dartmouth Corsair Classic.

Maciel took home top honors in the 400 meter hurdles to qualify for the ECAC Championships (56.44) while he also helped anchor the winning 4x400 meter relay (3:25.86).

Maciel was a part of the indoor season's record-breaking 4x400 relay team that earned All-Division III New England honors with an sixth-place finish. The relay team eclipsed the previous mark three times in a four-week stretch in March.

•The Fitchburg State athletic department had a pair of players earn Athlete of the Week.

Junior Amanda Burns (Weymouth, Mass./Weymouth) was named the New England Women's Lacrosse Alliance (NEWLA) Offensive Player of the Week while SENIOR MATT MUOLO (STONEHAM, MASS./STONEHAM) was tabbed the MAS-CAC's Men's Outdoor Field Athlete of the Week.

On the track, Muolo collected his fourth consecutive Field Athlete of the week honor after pacing the Fitchburg State men's track and field team at the George Davis Invitational hosted by UMass Lowell. Muolo posted a trio of top five finishes, including top honors in the discus (47.75m), fourth place honors in the hammer throw (49.49m) and a fifth place effort in the shot-put (14.40m).

How does one become involved with pushing a wheelbarrow for a good cause? It all goes back to when Bowser met trainer Dave Nock.

"Nock had a unique approach to training," Bowser said. "He brought out this old wheelbarrow and he threw everything in it - rocks, logs, anything he could find, and he told me to push it to the highest point in Essex County. He left me to do it. I decided I wanted to give back somehow for everything that was done for me, and this was a way to do it."

Bowser and Nock decided to raise money by pushing the wheelbarrow. The first Power Push was a 16-mile trek to raise money for stroke patients at Mass General.

The next time out, Bowser pushed an 800-pound wheelbarrow 40 miles from Amesbury to Woburn to raise money for pancreatic cancer research.

Now he is focused on his latest effort, zoned in on his DC trip. Bowser said he requires eight to 12 weeks of training for such a power push, including mental training for weeks.

"I shut down, turn off the outside activities - mentally preparing for this for seven or eight hours a day," he said. "You have to put yourself in a room and eat, sleep and breathe the push, picture every moment along the way."

He trains at home by lifting anything he can find in the yard, ranging from truck tires to lawnmowers to large rocks, in addition to a lot of strength training at the gym.

After his last Power Push, Bowser said he didn't physically and mentally recover until about eight months after it was over. This one may take longer, and be harder to complete, but he is ready.

"When you're holding 700 or 800 pounds in your hand, walking one step at a time it's almost impossible to describe," Bowser said. "It's all about the mental preparation. I'll never say I can't do it, but I'll die trying. If I die doing it, then the big man upstairs needed a wheelbarrow pusher," he said.

Final report on cancer study expected in summer 2012

WILMINGTON - The Wilmington Board of Health (BOH) received an update Tuesday night on the Wilmington Childhood Cancer Study, which was initiated more than a decade ago, but the board was left with more questions than answers.

The presentation, provided by Dr. Robert Knorr, Ph.D. of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, outlined the milestones of the study along with a projected timeline for future milestones. His timeline projects that a final study report will be issued in the summer of 2012.

It was in 1999 that a group of concerned residents and the Wilmington BOH asked the Massachusetts Department of Public Health (DPH) to investigate a reported cluster of childhood cancer in Wilmington. Initial concerns focused on a number of children diagnosed with brain cancer, Hodgkin's Disease, leukemia, and non-Hodgkin's lymphoma in the Kelly Hill neighborhood - located on the west side of town near the Middle School - and the town as a whole between the years 1990 and 1999. The study focused on children living in Wilmington who were diagnosed with cancer between 1989 and 2000.

Over the last several years, the DPH has suffered from decreasing funding, with the Wilmington Childhood Cancer Study being victimized. In November 2008, the funding for the Wilmington Childhood Cancer Study was eliminated completely. This cut led to the laying-off of the epidemiologist assigned to the study and to the suspension of the study. Despite a lack of funding, some work resumed in September 2009 with a refinement of water modeling that had been done for the study. In June 2010, DPH redirected funds to hire a short-term epidemiologist/consultant to begin preliminary analyses.

BOH members expressed dissatisfaction with the protracted timeline.

"This study has been going on for twelve years," said BOH member Dr. James Ficociello. "How disturbing it would be if after all this time it found a problem."

Ficociello is hopeful, and appeared expectant, that the study will not identify a specific problem existing in Wilmington that, had the study been completed long ago, could have been remedied much earlier. He noted that two of the children originally named in the study did not grow up in Wilmington, but moved to town not long before their diagnosis. He also noted that a business existed in the Kelly Hill neighborhood that employed a large amount of fertilizers and chemicals, which have been known as contributors to cancer. He further noted that the diagnoses were diverse, and not limited to a single form of cancer.

Ficociello hearkened back to the cases in Woburn that led to the book and subsequent movie "A Civil Action." Ficociello was raised in North Woburn and, "those people were my friends and neighbors."

Returning to the troubling timeline of the study, Ficociello asked Knorr, "Going forward, especially with decreasing funding, can there be a more timely reaction to something like this?"

Knorr recognized and sympathized with the Ficociello's sentiments.

"I wish I knew the answer to that," he said. He explained that one of the dangers in moving too fast without enough research is not being able to adequately characterize the risk of exposure. "Without that, it is all left to speculation and creates fear."

BOH Chair Elizabeth Sabounjian echoed Ficociello's comments and stressed the responsibility the BOH has to the citizens of Wilmington.

"Over the years, the Board of Health has often requested status updates," Sabounjian said. "I just feel grandly disappointed in not having the answers in our hands at this point."

Knorr again acknowledged the BOH's frustrations.

"I have no excuse," he said. "I could say that we have no money and no staff, but we do have the responsibility."

Sabounjian requested, and Knorr agreed to, milestone updates on a quarterly basis.

The request for an investigation of childhood cancer in Wilmington was made by a group of residents of Kelly Hill and the Wilmington BOH in March 1999. In March 2000, a Community Advisory Committee (CAC) was established, and in June 2002 a recruitment of study participants was initiated.

Interviews with study participants were completed in November 2004.

In June 2008, the initial drinking water modeling of N-Nitrosodimethylamine (NDMA) was completed.

Interview data was prepared for analysis in September 2008, but study was suspended in November 2008 when funding for the study was eliminated.

In September 2009, despite a lack of monies, the water model was refined.

DPH redirected funds in June 2010 for the short-term hiring of an epidemiologist consultant to begin preliminary analyses of interview data using the water model results. Following significant progress, however, it was discovered on September 13, 2010, that there existed errors in the water modeling. Those errors were not in any technical assumptions or methods, but consisted only of missing values of NDMA concentrations for some months of data.

On September 29, 2010, the modeling errors were corrected. However, the limited funding available for the epidemiologist expired.

Knorr expects that epidemiologist analyses will be complete by the end of 2011. A draft report is expected to be submitted for peer review in the winter of 2011. Following the peer review, the draft will be available to the BOH and the public for a public comment period. The DPH will then address any questions or concerns raised during the public comment period and will produce a final report, likely by the summer of 2012.

State-of-the-Art 16 room Victorian

(Due to a production error part of the following Sampler did not appear in last weeks Middlesex East. Middlesex East regrets the error)

This week Sampler tours an extraordinary home, defined by its exquisite custom craftsmanship, period authenticity, and impeccable taste.

This home provides the rare opportunity for a Victorian lover to find authentic Victorian features and extravagant moldings while still enjoying the peace of mind of state-of-the-art amenities and mechanical systems found in a new construction home.

With a circular driveway and a wrap-around porch, visitors are then welcomed by a stunning grand foyer, high ceilings and grand staircase.

Incredible Brazilian Cherry floors with custom inlays shine throughout the oversized dining room, fire-placed parlor with bay windows and first floor study.

The Butlers Pantry, off the dining room leads to an enormous 26 foot gourmet kitchen with an 8 foot two-step center island, beautiful granite counter tops, exceptional cabinetry, Sub-zero refrigerator, 5 burner Bosch, dual full sized ovens and a raised dishwasher. The hub of the home is the show-stopper family room, with rich tones projecting warmth and relaxation for all. The room boasts 12 foot ceilings, a custom gas fireplace, two walls of architectural windows, a dramatic custom cherry & oak floor and 8 foot tall doors leading to deck.

The huge second floor landing separates 2 generous sized bedrooms with walk-ins from the master suite and bath, which is front to back, with a sofa nestled into the large bay windows.

A bright and airy 3rd floor level offers high ceilings and additional living space. Both oversized bedrooms include walk-in storage and share an exercise/fitness area, making this an ideal getaway space for teens or an expansive at-home office space.

The lower level guest suite or au pair offers high ceilings,

2 bedrooms, a kitchen, dining room and generous sized living room with fireplace and a private entrance.

This residence has dual systems, central air, sprinkler system, 3 laundries and so much more. With the potential for 7 bedrooms, or 5 with an in-home office suite, this luxurious home is indeed a rare find at $799,900. This home is being marketed by Winchester's Coldwell Banker. For private appointment, contact Judy McCoy at 978-337-2040.

Did you know?

According to the Prostate Cancer Foundation, the prostate is not essential for life. Instead, the role of the prostate seems to be to supply substances that facilitate fertilization. Enzymes like PSA, or prostate-specific antigen, are used to loosen up semen to help the sperm reach the egg during intercourse. In addition, other substances made by the prostate give sperm the energy to make its journey to fertilize the egg. If a man undergoes a prostatectomy and his prostate is removed, he can go on to live a healthy life but he will be rendered infertile.

Oakshire is an ideal home for entertaining

By Associated Designs

Linked gathering spaces, awash with natural light, fill the core of the Oakshire, a single-level shingle-style home with plenty of room to spread out. Three bedrooms and two bathrooms, including the luxurious owners' suite, fill the left wing.

This plan is ideal for families that like to entertain. The large great room flows into the dining room, with only a change in ceiling height to mark the transition. Then the kitchen is open to the dining room across a gracefully curved and raised eating/sitting bar.

When the weather is mellow, meals can move out onto the partially covered patio. It could be easily screened, to keep out pesky insects.

Chilly days allow appreciation of another notable feature: a two-sided fireplace. The warmth and color of its flames can be enjoyed from either the den or the great room. The den, immediately to the right of the front door, is also in an ideal location for use as a home office.

Both the great room and dining room are richly windowed at the rear. Standing at the kitchen sink or cook-top range, you can keep an eye on the gathering areas, both inside and out. The cook top is built into a long work island, rimmed on the dining room side by the eating bar.

A large utility room and a small bathroom are right around the corner, along with a mud hall that links with the garage. The hall's bench is ideal for shucking off muddy foot gear. Storage cabinets or shelves fill the walls to the left and right of the bench. A workbench could be built into the extra space at the rear of the Oakshire's garage, or it could be used for storage.

For a review plan, including scaled floor plans, elevations, section and artist's conception, send $25 to Associated Designs, 1100 Jacobs Dr., Eugene, OR 97402. Please specify the Oakshire 30-770 and include a return address when ordering. A catalog featuring more than 550 home plans is available for $15. For more information, call (800) 634-0123, or visit our website at www.AssociatedDesigns.com.
